 SUUNTO

Seek thrill and adventure with discounts on Suunto sports watches and dive computers.

At a glance

Suunto has distinguished itself through products such as sports watches, dive computers and other instruments that are as forward-thinking as the pioneering adventure seekers who wear them. However, if you're the type of person who enjoys extreme challenges and pushes yourself to the limit, your training kit isn't complete without a Suunto heart rate monitor. Then again, you'll still reap the rewards of these cutting-edge devices, even if you view exercise as a chance to socialise and have fun.

That's because Suunto's devices give instant access to your cardiovascular training data. When you combine this with your performance metrics, you have a highly effective tool to help you reach peak fitness in the shortest time possible. The Suunto range of heart monitors includes an integrated GPS. Training tools facilitate on- and off-track training, and the devices can even be used to monitor calorie intake and measure your speed and distance.
